Details:

This introductory class will introduce parents and children to the foundations of the Suzuki method and to violin basics. A parent has to participate with their child during each class. We will play ear training games and make hand-made box violins. Our first meeting will be spent on making box violins. Please bring an empty Mac and Cheese box and a roll of duct tape to class. The tape can be any color you would like! Everything else will be provided. After the next four classes, you and your child will have a good idea if you want to continue with individual violin lessons. Have any questions? Call Larysa Giesen at 952-913-7659.
